Marty Fischer is one of America's best-known outdoor personalities. A graduate of Georgia Southern College, with a degree in Speech-Public Relations, he is seen on national cable and satellite television by millions of outdoor enthusiasts and is read by more than a million outdoorsmen each month.

He is currently producing and hosting an all new all wingshooting television series called If it Flies..., which is airing on the Pursuit Channel during the first and second quarters of 2018. The series will feature wingshooting from the very best places throughout North America and around the world, and will not only include great hunting footage, but important shooting tips that viewers can use as well as showcasing the lifestyle of the wingshooting enthusiast.

From 2010 – 2016 he was a Host and partner of the highly-acclaimed series TNT Outdoor Explosion which featured big game, dangerous game and turkey hunting, as well as great wingshooting shows from around the world. During that time, the TNT series was on occasion, the highest rated television series on the Pursuit Channel network.

For nine seasons he was a host/partner of the Shotgun Journal television series, the most watched wingshooting television series ever produced. That series appeared on The Outdoor Life Network, the Pursuit Channel and the Outdoor Channel. Other TV credits include: shooting pro for Suzuki Great Outdoors on ESPN, Pull – America's Great Gun Clubs and Direct Hit on OLN, American Hunter and Browning's The Best There Is on The Outdoor Channel, Mossy Oak's Hunting the Country and Remington Country on TNN and SportShooting America on Fox Sports South.

He is a professional wingshooter, a National Sporting Clays Association Level III shooting instructor (36 years of wing and clay target coaching experience), a highly sought after public speaker and gun club designer. He is widely respected as one of the finest shooting instructors in the U.S. and is one of America's leading gun club design consultants and shooting event managers. A recent on-line article for the popular Shotgun Life website referred to him as "the world's most famous left-handed wingshooter."

To date, he has designed more than 150 public and private clay target facilities throughout North America, and he was once referred to as "perhaps the most sought after gun club designer in America" by the Knoxville News-Sentinel newspaper in Tennessee. In a recent article in Garden and Gun Magazine about the best sporting clays courses, six of the nine named facilities were Marty Fischer designs. In 2012 the magazine selected one of Fischer's sporting designs as "Best of the Best" - Foxhall Resort and Sporting Club near Atlanta.

As a public speaker, he has appeared on behalf of organizations at shows like the National Wild Turkey Federation, Bass Pro Shops Fall Hunting Classic, Georgia Wildlife Federation, Safari Club International Convention, the National Rifle Association, the National Shooting Sports Foundation - SHOT Show, Virginia Sportsman's Show, International Sportsman's Expo, Palmetto Sportsman's Classic, National Association of Range Owners, North American Gamebird Association, International Wingshooting and Flyfishing Expo and many more.

Marty is the host of four hunting and two sporting clays instructional videos - An Introduction to Sporting Clays (1992), Developing Your Own Style of Shooting (1997), The Art and Science of Pheasant

Hunting (1998), The Art and Science of Duck Hunting (1998) and The Art and Science of Goose Hunting (1999). These videos are on wingshooting and clay target instruction, and are available in major sporting goods retailers and over the Internet. His latest video offerings are Wingshooting – Putting More Birds in Your Bag (2005) and Swamp Ghost – Hunting the Osceola Turkey (2006).

He has appeared in numerous other hunting videos including Mossy Oak's Whistling Wings II, Mossy Oak's Extreme Spring 5 and Green Timber Duck Hunting II with Kirk McCullough.

He is an internationally read outdoor writer with columns and/or features in such publications as Quail Unlimited Magazine, Sporting Clays Magazine, Dove Hunter Magazine, Turkey Country, Southern Sporting Journal, Double Gun Journal, Guns and Gear, Nations Best Sports, Georgia Outdoor News, Sports Afield, Clay Shooting USA, Gray's Sporting Journal, Shooting Sportsman Magazine, Sporting Classics, Gamekeepers Magazine, Gun Digest, Clay Target Nation and South Magazine.

His first book, Limbhangers & 4-Letter Words was released in late 2007, and is currently available. His second book, The Gun Digest Book of Shotgunning, was published by Krause Publications in early 2010, and is now sold out in hard copy, but is being made available digitally. Limbhangers & 4-Letter Words is a non-fiction book about turkey hunting and the shotgun book is a how to piece on wingshooting.

Fischer is a five-time competitor in the World Duck Calling Championship in Stuttgart, Arkansas, and was a four-time finalist and Top 5 finisher in that event. He is a three-time Georgia State Duck Calling Champion, a Great Lakes Calumet Regional Duck Calling Champion and a Southeastern Regional Duck Calling Champion. Fischer was a judge for the 1997 World Duck Calling Championship and has also served as a judge in many Hunting Retriever Hunt Tests. He was one of three judges for the Ducks Unlimited Continental Hunting Retriever Championship.

An avid turkey hunter, Marty and his TV partner Todd Cast participated in and won the 2015 TurkeyFest World Invitational Turkey Hunting Championship in Henrietta, Texas. He can now add a "World Champion" title to his many outdoor accomplishments. He has seven wild turkey Grand Slams to his credit.

He is an avid hunter who has taken big game, turkeys and birds in more than 35 states and 11 different countries on four continents. As a professional wingshooter, Marty has harvested more than 100,000 gamebirds around the world. He has owned two Master Hunter Labrador retrievers, including the first chocolate Labrador retriever in the history of the breed to earn two Master Hunting Retriever titles (AKC & NAHRA).

He is currently on the National Pro Staff of or has industry affiliations with many hunting and shooting related companies worldwide.
