

Hesston Klenk
Director Government Relations
The AES Corporation

Hesston leads government relations in the Central United States for The AES Corp. In this role Hesston and his team focus on policy initiatives that support the evolving energy sector and its expansion. Before joining AES in 2022, Hesston spent 19 years in the mining industry, specializing in responsible state and federal policy initiatives alongside responsible community engagement and social performance. Throughout his career, Hesston has led functional teams in several countries, including Peru, Chile, and Australia.