

Tom Pruett

I am a passionate information technology and security expert with expertise guiding strategies that enable reliable and efficient network performance aligned with diverse regulatory requirements across various international borders. A proven track record of 20 years across multiple enterprises, including capital markets, investment banking, financial services, computer and network security, internet, information technology, and medical business platforms.

A natural leader known for offering a full spectrum of solutions impacting complex cybersecurity protection, enhancing team training, developing leadership, and implementing innovative solutions to meet and exceed business needs. Experience includes security, infrastructure, applications, development, and project management.